ADJOURNMENT ON ACCOUNT OF A HORSE RACE.

The Landon Times of the 19th ultimo contains the following severe remarks on the adjournment of the British Parliament in the middle of the Indian discussion, in or- at Wilmington, Delaware, on SATURDAY, the middle of the Indian discussion, in or- at der to enable the members to attend a June 19th, 1858. horse-race at Epsom:--

"Truth, they say, is stranger than fiction. and the most daring romancer would not venture to imagine the events of the day .--The fate of a Government, of a Legislature, of an Empire, of 200,000,000 of people, is hanging in the balance. A host of orators have got up their speeches. Capital points, fearful sarcasms, solemn perorations are ready for delivery on the shortest notice. Europe anxiously awaits the issue of the conflict, which is to decide, no one knows how long, who is to wield the influence of this great empire in the politics of the world .--But all is suspended. Forty-eight hours are suddenly lost to the history of mankind. A dark chasm discovers itself in this most critical chapter of modern chronology, not by the sport of the elements or the injury of time, but wilful and deliberate. As armies have stopped in full charge, and at the very moment of encounter, to gaze on some por- | 1 do of tent or ridiculous spectacle, the British Legislature resolves for two whole days to sit | 1 do of still and hold its tongue. Whence this awful pause? What suspends the thunder-cloud Tickets $15-Halves $7 50-Quarters $3.75. ere it breaks on the world? We must tell the homely truth. Last night the House of Commons was occupied in hearing Sir C. Napier delivering bimself on a subject which had kept, he said, for more than forty years, and which, it might be fairly inferred, would keep a little longer; and to-day all London runs off to a chalk down, distant twenty miles, to ascertain which is the fleetest of some twenty horses. It is hard to say which in British estimation, is the more important question at issue. The same man has the greatest interest in both. To-day the question is whether Toxophilite* is the fastest horse in the country; on Friday the question is whether his master is the best man for Premier. It is shrewdly observed that the stake in both cases is £5,000, but honor is above all reckoning. Profane people wickediy suggest that Lord Derby cares more for the success of his horse than for that of his Administration, and that if Toxophilite wins to-day he cares not who grasps the reins of power on Friday. It is not for us to decide. whole country is flooded with Bogus Lottery from the fortest of the Number concerns Beware of them. tile fancy which feeds best upon nothing, and which makes Sunday its chieftest workday, are content to be idle. We should seem ourselves to infringe on the speciality of the festival if we went too deeply or too savagely into such a question as the treatment of talookdars or the mercy due to Oude. This is the Derby Day; but Lord Derby himself today gives precedence to his horse, and we

WASHINGTON CITY.

This is the title of an article in the June number of De Bow's Review, from the pen of George Fitzhugh, esq., of Virginia. We regret that we have only space to extract the following paragraphs:

"Mid the famine and desolation that swept over many of our cities during the last fall and winter, the prosperity of Washington stood undiminished. The rich did not fail and the poor did not lack abundant and remunerative employment. It will always be so; for, in this national metropolis, a wise, liberal, and wealthy government will ever find remunerative employment for a suffering and destitute laboring class. The cit. Prizes in one wheel and Tukets in another. izens of Washington are the best represented people in the Union, for they are represented by the collective wisdom of the Union.

physical suffering that renders Washington a desirable abode for the poor. Human life were indeed, a dreary waste, if mere animal comfort were its loftiest aim and highest attainment. The pleasures of taste and of intellect are here equally open to high and low, rich and poor. The most destitute here have, without money, ever spread before them an intellectual feast, more ample and more delicate than the millionaire can command in any other spot in America. The public buildings, the statuary, and the paintings that adorp them, the many public libraries, the splendid parks and walks about those buildings, the National Museum and National Observatory, the free lectures at the Smithsonian Institute, the levees at the President's, the semiweekly musical performances at the Capitol and the President's, are common property, equally open to all decently behaved persons. These things give a charm to Washington life for all classes of men. They are the rich man's enjoyment, and the poor man's property-property which no private cupidity or avarice can appropriate and monopolize, no judgment or execution reach and destroy-the only property worth having in America, where the spirit and practice of trade occasion so many mutations of possession, such frequent ups-and-downs in life, that to be rich to-day merely serves to aggravate the sufferings of the poverty of to-

"Fortunately for America, the interests of Washington are all conservative. Sectional misrule and oppression would speedily dissolve the Union, and the dissolution of the Union, will be the death-knell of its metropolis. The great power which she will attain to will be employed as umpire and pacificator, to heal dissension, to prevent sectional oppression, and to restore amity between opposing, hostile, and contending sections --If she act well her part, the centripetal influence which she will exercise, will come in, well and timely, to supply the place of the cohesive power which the fear or the jealousy of foreign aggression exercised in the early and weaker days of the republic."

The Howard Association, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a charitable act, worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this lass of diseases, in all their forms, and to give Medical advice gratis, to all who apply by let- subscription, $3; six months, $1.50; three ter with a description of their condition, (age occupation, habits of life, &c.,) and in cases of extreme poverty, to furnish Medicines free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved mod-

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important but much despised cause.
